

My Flight

At birth we board an airplane, meet our parents and believe that they will always travel by our side. However, at some airport, our parents will step off leaving us to continue our journey alone.

As time goes by, other people will board the airplane and they will be significant, i.e. our siblings, our friends, children, and even the love of our life. Many will step down and leave a permanent vacuum and others will go so unnoticed that you don't realize they have vacated their seats.

This airplane will be full of joy, sorrow, fantasy, expectations, hellos, goodbyes, and farewells. Success consists of having good relationships with all the passengers and crew requiring that we give the best of ourselves.

The mystery to everyone is: We do not know at which airport we ourselves will step off. So, we must live in the best way, love, forgive and offer the best of who we are. It is important to do this because when the time comes for us to step off and leave our seat empty we should leave behind beautiful memories for those who will continue to travel.

I wish you all a joyful journey on this airplane of life. Reap success, give lots of love and, most importantly, thank God for the flight.

Lastly, I thank you for being one of the passengers on my airplane. I will step off this airplane of life and be glad you were part of my journey.

Gary